Microwave Cooking Tips and Tricks

Good news for homemakers

This is the second of two articles on tips and tricks for the microwave oven.

The following are instant menu ideas:

1. Pancakes, waffles and French toast - freeze leftovers with sheets of waxed paper between for easy separation. Warm three frozen pancakes on paper towel on high for 45 seconds.

2. Maple syrup can be heated right in bottle. Remove cap and microwave 30 to 45 seconds.

3. Warm sandwiches open face on paper towel for 20 seconds.

4. Quick cook chicken parts for salads and casseroles. Cook on high, one piece 3 to 4 minutes.

5. Grill extra steaks and then freeze. Enjoy the charcoal flavor by defrosting and warming in the microwave.

6. Separate cold bacon easily by heating the entire package for a few seconds on high.

Other microwave ideas which will be helpful to you are:

1. Increase the yield of juice from citrus fruits - Microwave the whole fruit 15 to 30 seconds before squeezing. This is especially helpful with lemons, limes and oranges.

2. Plump raisins (15-ounce box) by sprinkling with 2 tablespoons of water. Heat uncovered 2 minutes. Let stand covered 2 more minutes.

3. Plump dried fruit - Combine 8 ounces fruit with ¾ cup water. Cover and microwave on high 5 minutes, stirring after 2½ minutes.

4. Drying herbs - Remove stems and rinse fresh parsley, chives, basil, sage, mint, etc. Place ½ to 1 cup loose packed herbs between 2 sheets of paper towelling. Microwave on high 2 to 2½ minutes. Crumble if desired. Store in an air-tight container on your kitchen shelf.

5. Drying bread cubes - cut 6 slices of bread into ½ inch cubes. Microwave in a shallow baking dish 6 to 7 minutes, stirring once or twice. Makes 1 quart. Use for croutons or place in blender for crumbs.

6. Baby Food - Remove nipple and cover from an 8-ounce bottle of milk and microwave 30 to 60 seconds. Place desired serving quantity of baby food in a custard cup and heat for 15 to 30 seconds. Baby food takes a little longer if refrigerated.

7. Thaw frozen juice concentrate in serving pitcher. Remove from container and microwave for 30 to 45 seconds on high. Then mix with water.

8. Hot Compress - Heat damp cloth for 15 to 30 seconds on high.

½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¾ cup red wine
½ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon basil
¼ teaspoon ground thyme
1 small bay leaf
2 lbs. sirloin, cut-up
1 6 oz. can tomato paste

In dutch oven or electric saucepan, saute in oil the mushrooms, onion, parsley, garlic, salt, pepper, oregano, basil, thyme and bay leaf for about 5 minutes until tender. Add sirloin and brown. Stir in tomato paste and wine. Simmer about 25 minutes covered until meat is tender. Put into 2½ to 3 quart casserole.

Prepare Cheese Potato Balls

AT&T reps attend convention

Representatives of Appomattox Truck and Tractor, Appomattox, recently returned from Allis-Chalmers' National Dealer Convention in Reno, Nevada.

The group was among more than 3,500 people who attended the meeting where the company introduced its new agricultural and industrial equipment lines for 1982. A completely redesigned and restyled line of farm tractors in the 106 to 170 horsepower range generated the most excitement among the dealers who took their first look at the new equipment at the week-long event.

The new tractor line, called the 8000 Series, includes four models in the most popular horsepower classes.

In addition to the 8000 Series, Allis-Chalmers dealers were also introduced to the 6140 tractor at the opposite end of the power spectrum at 40 horsepower. The 6140 tractor can be used as a utility model but carries many design features normally found on larger models such as power steering, full-synchronized 10-speed transmission, wet disk brakes and a front wheel drive option.

Allis-Chalmers also continued its leadership position in providing equipment of use in soil conservation programs with the introduction of 1500 Min-Til implement and a 1400 Chiselvator field cultivator.

The firm also unveiled a new finance package which is designed to overcome high interest rates and help the farmer when investing in the new equipment. Called the "Safe Harbor Lease/Ownership" plan, the firm is offering an equivalent annual interest rate of only 9.9 percent on 5-year lease/ownership agreements. The new program allows Allis-Chalmers to take advantage of the provision of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981, and to pass the savings on to customers in the form of reduced interest rates.

Provisions of the act also permit the farmer/lessee to deduct the full amount of his lease payments from federal pre-tax income and also provides a guaranteed option purchase price at the end of the lease/purchase period of one dollar.

ALLIS-CHALMERS' new 8050 tractor received a lot of attention at the company's recent National Dealer Convention in Reno, Nevada. Pictured, with the 8050 are: Jim Mitchell, Baxter Parris, Nathan Smith, and Jimmy Braford from Appomattox Truck and Tractor. More than 3500 Allis-Chalmers dealers and representatives from the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Australia, Africa and South America attended the convention.
